Timetable Management System

❖ Introduction:

In this assignment, we created a form-based timetable management system, that shows timetable for an individual student from different section/classes, and it also shows timetable for an individual teacher. Moreover, it shows the timetable for a particular section/class and for a particular room.

This repository contains all the .h, .cpp, and .txt files, including commits from both group members. Initially, we developed the entire program in a single .cpp file. Later, with the help of ChatGPT, we separated it into .h and .cpp files. This time, We have added an SQL connection to the project.

We took some more help from ChatGPT too like fixing errors in the program, asking for some functionality ideas 😊.

❖ Output Snippets:

Following are some snippets from the code output:

+ Main Menu:

+ Teacher Wise Timetable:

When you select option 1, the program will ask you for an application id, which is present in teachers.txt file.

NOTE:All the txt files shown here are just a sample of the format of data that is actually inside the database.

When you enter the application id of the teacher, the form will display the timetable.

	01-131232-050	Huzaifa	2-B

On the same method, the Add teacher, remove teacher, and display teacher works.

➤ Conclusion:

In conclusion, it was a challenging assignment for us to complete, due to that we couldn't implement all the functionalities that were described in the assignment file, but we did our best to implement as much as we can. One more thing, YES, we did take help from ai tools, like ChatGPT, but we understood the code and then implemented the code from ChatGPT in our main function. We have shared the ChatGPT chat history.
